

April 2, 2020

Dear Valued Customer,

We want to take a moment to provide you with an update on the impact the global coronavirus pandemic has had on our operations.

We continue to closely monitor daily developments and adapt our activities as needed, and have formed internal teams to assess, prepare and respond. We appreciate your patience and support as we navigate through these unprecedented events.

Hubbell has a very broad range of product solutions, many of which Hubbell has been able to classify as critical or essential under applicable state, county, or country orders or legislation. In order to ensure safety at these locations, all sites have implemented increased levels of industrial hygiene and where possible a work from home policy. We are managing our employees to increase social distancing, as well as restricting our travel policies; and we are following all local and country guidelines for industrial activity and workforce management.

We have some redundancy in our global supply chain, both with our supply base as well as in our own manufacturing footprint. We have been able to maintain a sufficient level of inventory to support our current customer needs. If you have extraordinary needs during these times, please reach out to us and we will work together to meet your requirements. We have seen some temporary disruptions in the transportation networks but have been able to rectify these quickly.

We appreciate your support during this rapidly changing situation. We will continue to keep you updated on Hubbell's response and current status. Again, if you have any specific questions or issues during this time, please contact your local Hubbell representative.

Regards,

Mike Sullivan
Hubbell's Coronavirus Enterprise Sales Liaison